

Lisa Cossy Ph.D.
Psychotherapy & Assessment Services
Clinical Psychologist

Available Evaluations

Comprehensive Evaluation

This includes IQ/cognitive testing, academic abilities testing, memory testing, plus ADHD and emotional/mental health screening.

IQ and Academic Evaluation

Typically used for classroom placement, academic accommodations (e.g. extra exam time, reduced workload) and to determine the presence of a learning disability.

Cognitive (IQ) Testing

May be used to help understand a person's learning style, cognitive strengths and weaknesses and for classroom placement.

ADHD Testing

This includes IQ/cognitive testing, emotional/personality assessment, clinical interviews ADHD rating scales and computer tests of attention

Memory Testing

Provides information about auditory and verbal memory, short term, long term memory, as well as, attention and concentration.

Social/Emotional Evaluation

This evaluation is completed when there are concerns about cognitive social, emotional, or behavioral development including autism. IQ testing is also included.

Psychological/Personality Evaluation

Includes cognitive, emotional and personality testing. It provides information about how a person thinks, as well as, personality traits and possible reasons for behaviour patterns.